THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 4, 18[illegible]

By Telegraph.

The dispatches do not confirm the reports circulated in this city yesterday as to the intended movement of Johnson against the national forces at Vicksburg, and there seems to be no question that Gen Grant's position is such that he can safely hold it and push forward till he wins a complete victory We see no reason for fear that he will be interrupted in his progress or that by any possible action of Johnson he can be prevented from finishing the work so well begun, and in fact accomplished

The intelligence from the Army of the Potomac is of special interest, and furnishes reason to anticipate startling news shortly The rebel commander has been trying to kindle the zeal of his army by brilliant promises, and it is possible that we may soon hear of a sudden attack at some point north of the Rappahannock We presume, however that all raids in that direction if attempted will be sufficiently guarded against, especially as Gen Lee has been so considerate as to give ample notice of his purpose

The English pirate Alabama has again been at her diabolical work, and this time has destroyed a ship bound to this coast, laden in part, we are told, with cargo for Oregon Of course, fretting is useless, and we suppose that commercial men have made up their minds to submit to these repeated outrages, from which the Government appears to be unable to save or protect them

The dispatch is one of unusual importance if true, but as we hope and believe a considerable part of it is vain speculation, we think nobody need be frightened out of his boots, and that our secesh neighbors, one or two of whom seemed to be very jolly yesterday, will have to wait awhile before they can rejoice in iniquity and its infernal success

A New Source of Wealth.—If those of our citizens who have no other business employment which yields a fair income would direct their attention to gathering the pitch that is in the fir and pine trees, a handsome profit could be easily realized therefrom By reference to advertisement, it will be seen that Messrs Snow, Turley & Co offer to pay four cents a pound for every pound of pitch brought to them, having recently established a pitch, rosin, tar and turpentine manufactory in this city Mr Turley informs us that the mode of gathering the pitch is simple and the reward is sure Mr Turley says —

My experience teaches me that the pitch can be gathered by notching the trees those that run the best by notching have smooth bark and limbs low down on the body Another successful way to gather the pitch is by boring the trees to the centre, when very oft on a seam or windshake is struck that will yield from one to ten gallons of pitch in a few hours. I gathered 200 pounds in two days a short time since, by boring the trees The kind of trees to bore are the large ones, free from limbs for some distance up, and generally standing some distance from other trees

These facts must impress every industrious and energetic man favorably, and it would certainly add to the interest of our citizens should they use their influence and exertions to develop every natural resource in our State, from which wealth can be obtained

Eulogy on Massachusetts.—The great report on the French Exposition of Industry of the year 1861, is recently completed It is introduced by an Essay by Baron Charles Dupin, in which he attempts some study of the progress in science made in half a century — In the address to the Emperor, which makes the introduction to this essay, he selects two striking illustrations of the "intellectual power which extorts from the parsimony of nature, or from its generosity, the treasures which the world presents to us"

One of these examples is taken from Scotland,—the other from Massachusetts —

On the West of the Atlantic he says, Massachusetts, notwithstanding the quality of its soil,—which is incomparably less fertile than the basins of the Mississippi, the La Plata and the Amazon,—Massachusetts increases by agriculture, and above all by industry,—She places herself, in the sciences and the arts, at the head of the hundred and twenty States of the New World in the midst of which she is To the territory which she finds too limited she adds two oceans towards the North,—to attack the great cetaceans,—she sends more sailors than all the rest of the world put together She seeks, even in Asia the treasures of the equator —and she pays for these priceless spices and perfumes of the torrid zone with the ice of her lakes To draw from her running waters service more astonishing, she transforms her rapids and cataracts into motive powers regular enough to rival those of steam This State was not satisfied with establishing its Alma Cambridge that she might extend the borders of science and even add stars to her conquests —she founds at the same time her Manchester, her Glasgow, her Leeds and her Halifax For the half century which is to follow that which we describe, she is preparing a war of giants against the colossus of British Industry,—she begins that war already —New England is devoting herself to the second war of independence—and the victory will be the independence of the arts

A letter in the New York World says Fort Pemberton, at Greenwood Mississippi is composed of no less than twenty thousand bales of cotton over which a covering of earth is thrown

By Overland Telegraph.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to May 30th.

More Particulars of the Attack on Vicksburg.

Johnson going to relieve the city

Baltimore, May 28th —The Bulletin has Murfreesboro dispatches of dates to the following effect

We have reports from rebel sources that Pemberton reports six assaults on Vicksburg but they greatly feared the next one which was about to be made

The rebels also say that Gen Herron got his way through at Haines Bluff and escaped The fact of the matter is that whoever commanded the rebel batteries at Haines Bluffs was cut off from communication with the rebel forces at Vicksburg

Washington, May 29th —The latest information from Vicksburg in the Government is contained in an official dispatch from Memphis May 27th which states that two boats from Vicksburg had just arrived at Memphis A telegram says that no official dispatches were received by these boats but they report that the attack on Vicksburg was progressing and that Grant was still gaining ground

Chicago May 28th —The rebel reports of our repulse at Vicksburg seem to have been correct The Memphis dispatches of the 27th say the steamer Sultana, from Young's Point, reports that last Friday May 22d the Federal troops were repulsed at Vicksburg The next morning they retrieved their position At one place it was necessary, owing to the steepness of the hill, to scale it with ladders Gen Hovey led the assault The rebels rolled shells down the hill at the Federals which exploded among them, making a fearful havoc Further fighting was going on when the boat left The Federal losses are said to be very heavy Correspondence dated on the field Saturday night 23d, says, no fighting to-day The troops are resting from yesterday assault Our repulse was complete at all points of the line, No doubts need be apprehended as to our success We are entrenching and building rifle pits Cavalry have been sent towards Canton to ascertain Johnson's whereabouts

Murfreesboro, May 27 —Dispatches from Grant arrived to-day, the tenor of which is highly encouraging The army was in excellent condition, considering the ordeal of marches and battles through which it had lately passed The General says the city is completely invested The enemy were driven from the outer works by storm, and are huddled together within the inner works with every prospect of being captured soon

Dispatches received to-day from reliable sources represent Johnson as being in the immediate vicinity of Jackson receiving heavy reinforcements that come pouring in from every direction He is reported to have said that if the city could hold out fifteen days he would throw into it 100,000 men, if he is compelled to relinquish every foot held in his department to effect it If the condition of affairs at Vicksburg is correctly stated the rebels cannot possibly hold out five days

Washington May 28th —The Washington letter to the Commercial says Grant telegraphed to the President that it is impossible for Johnson to get together 10 000 men within fifteen days Col Grierson having destroyed the railroads to such an extent as to prevent it He also says that Pemberton cannot hold out fifteen days Grant is sanguine of success

Cairo, May 29th —We have nothing from below to-night, of importance It is stated that Johnson is at Jackson with 15,000 men, and that the rebels also hold Big Black river bridge

Chicago, May 29th —The Memphis telegram of yesterday, just received, states that Vicksburg dated to the evening of the 26th had been received There had been no fighting since Monday the 24th

New York, May 29th —A special dispatch contains the following No rebel camps are visible on the heights beyond Fredericksburg yesterday Many of their horses which used to graze in herds on the plains below have also disappeared The rebels have shown renewed activity along the Rappahannock, and are massing troops at United States and Kelly's fords where they intend to cross, and the prospect of an early battle begins to be discussed in the army

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, May 28th —The rebels are evidently moving Lee issued an order which has been read to the troops, a few nights ago, congratulating them upon their past achievements and foreshadowing a raid into Maryland He tells them they are to have a long and rapid march into a country without railroads and calls upon every man to be prepared for the severest hardships, and wonderful victories are promised them The overthrow of our army is predicted as an inevitable result Trains of the enemy have been seen for several days, moving supplies below Fredericksburg

A balloon reconnoissance discovered a large column moving rapidly in the direction of Culpepper The enemy intend making a raid into Maryland or are endeavoring to get between Hooker's army and Washington which we are unable to determine Every one is on the qui vive Startling news may be expected soon from the army of the Potomac

Washington, May 29th —Murfreesboro dispatches to the 26th state that the movement commenced by that portion of Bragg's army under Breckinridge, had become general and that Polk and Hardee had withdrawn their forces in the direction of Vicksburg, though Bragg still keeps his headquarters at Shelbyville, to watch Rosecrans

A letter dated May 26th states that Col Burns's division was actually sent to Mississippi, and that Bragg's army is now falling back to the Tennessee line

A New Orleans correspondent announces the arrival of reinforcements That city is thus made secure during the absence of Gen Banks's army

New York May 30 —The Tribune says at two o'clock this morning our Washington correspondent telegraphed facts about the situation at Vicksburg—which may be thus summed up, by high authority—Grant has step by step driven the rebels into their fortifications, turning guns and other materials against them They, however, have troops sufficient to relieve each other as often as may be desirable in defending their lines of works He is continuing without any serious dread of any molestation from Johnson

The Times says there is no prospect that anything will be done in the Department of the South this season Orders have been sent there giving furloughs to one per cent of their men These instructions are to be carried out forthwith

Chicago May 30 —The following special [illegible] is published as a fact Gen Rosecrans contemplated a movement more than a week ago, which tended to confirm the report that Bragg was falling back [illegible] his position

New York, May 30 —The World's special dispatch from Washington says private [illegible] from Gauley Va, state that warm work may be expected in that region before long as the enemy has of late been making demonstrations which indicate that they are bent on mischief Twelve thousand of Beauregard's force has been brought up from Charleston and an active campaign in this direction inaugurated by the rebels, as an offset to their Vicksburg disaster

Washington May 30 —A Murfreesboro dispatch yesterday says orders were sent to the camps last night to hold themselves in readiness to march at a moment's warning with rations

San Francisco, May 30th —A dry goods house in this city has received a telegram from a partner in New York, dated May 28, saying that the ship Challenger from New York to this port had been burned by the Alabama (This may not refer to the Commonwealth referred to in our dispatches as captured by the Alabama These vessels left New York a days apart, and the Challenger is now about due at this port, Each ship had 10,000 barrels of pork on board belonging to the United States, besides large and well assorted cargoes, of general merchandise, well distributed among our merchants very few of whom are, however protected by war risks.

Miscellaneous Paragraphs

A person entering the army with peculiar views " says a correspondent of the Cleveland Herald, "as to carrying on this war has those views soon dispelled by a short sojourn in rebeldom and he is willing at once to second any measure however stringent and severe to crush the enemy

A Southern rebel who attacks the supporters of the Government openly and valiantly, with a musket, a cannon or a sword, may be a brave and manly fellow but a Northern traitor, conspiring against the Government in secret and attacking it under present circumstances, so far as he dares with a poisoned pen or a hissing tongue, must necessarily be a coward, an ingrate and dirty fellow

It has recently come out in a controversy between the Charleston Mercury and the Richmond Enquirer that Jeff Davis has been empowered by the rebel Congress to suspend the habeas corpus wherever he pleased That important fact was not known in South Carolina, and no wonder, for the Act was passed in secret session

Another of the innumerable applications of iron or the modified form of steel, appears in the form of enameled steel collars They have been worn for a year or two in England but are just beginning to come into general use in New York Seen at even a short distance, they look highly polished linen differing from that article only in their greater luster and cleanliness

The State of Georgia—the bugbear of the Confederacy—bothers Davis in every way First Alexander Stephens vigorously opposed secession then Gov. Brown stuck up pertinaciously for State rights, and fought against drafts and compulsory taxes, then the State Judges pronounced the conscription law unconstitutional now there is financial trouble Davis demands that the States shall legislatively indorse the bonds of the Confederacy but the Georgia Senate refuses to do it, and pass a bill submitting the matter to a vote of the people—always a popular move and in this instance boding no good to Davis

Here is one of the chivalrous acts of our "Southern brethren" which the rebel sympathizing English press may overlook—accidentally of course Recently, while the Union bark Pursuit was at Tampa Bay, three men disguised as women appeared on the shore with a white flag, and made signals of distress A boat with ten men and an officer went from the bark to their assistance When they landed, fifty or sixty men rose up from the bushes and fired on the men in the boat wounding some of them Now if the Captain of the Pursuit had burnt the miserable little village where this trick was played, what a howl we should have heard over Northern barbarity

Official returns of the election for the amended Constitution in West Virginia have been counted at Wheeling Twenty eight counties were in giving 24,874 for the Constitution to a mere nothing against it While the vote for the New State Constitution last spring, which did not provide for the gradual emancipation of slavery, was only, in the thirty-five counties heard from 16 707, the vote this spring on the amended Constitution, which did not provide for the gradual emancipation of slavery, was in twenty counties so far as heard from, 24 874 In other words, thirty five counties last spring gave 8,000 less votes for the unamended Constitution than twenty eight counties this spring gave for the amended Constitution It would seem as if "Congressional dictation" "abolition," and all such "gorgons dire" are rather popular than otherwise in West Virginia

Recorder's Court —Business in this Court seems to vary with the weather Yesterday being a cool, showery day, only two cases came up both drunks Albert Holden and John Colburn thought to have a bit of a spree and a jolly time generally, and accordingly went in with that intention, but becoming rather too boisterous, their pleasant recreation was suddenly nipped in the bud by being arrested and taken before Recorder McCoy, who imposed upon each of them a fine of five dollars and costs not being possessed of that amount they were booked for three days respectively to the city jail

City Council —Met last night at usual hour Bills of City Marshal, $97 55, Recorder's $41 50, Wasserman & Co 's, $40 00, and sundry other bills for repairing streets &c , were ordered paid

The supplemental Assessor's report for 1862–3 was received and approved, and the City Collector was ordered by resolution of Council to collect the taxes on all property therein named

Ordinance to impose and regulate licenses, was referred to committee of the whole, who reported it back with amendments Ordinance passed

Supplement Assessment —The amount of property returned as taxable in the supplemental assessment, is $1,180 000 Of this $1,000 000 is put down to the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, the tax on which amounts to $4,000 On property valued at $150,000, the People's Transportation Company pay a tax of $600 The whole tax levied in the city is $4 721,600

Willamette Theatre —A tolerably fair audience was at the Theatre last night, and the performance very good To night the tragedy of "The Gamester" will be played, Miss Edith Mitchell as "Mrs Beverly," and Mr Waldron as "Mr Beverly" From this it will be understood that Miss Mitchell has been engaged for another theatrical season, who, together with Mr Waldron, will be sure to make their entertainments worth going to see at any time Mr Waldron has gone to considerable expense in leasing and fitting up the Theatre building and the employment of a superior stock company for the intellectual entertainment of our citizens, relying upon a due appreciation of the same by all who feel any interest in sustaining and encouraging amusements of an intellectual, refined and refining character It is hoped he may not be disappointed A good bill is offered to night, —let the house be crowded

The Effect of the Proclamation —As the legal effect of the proclamation of emancipation continues to be the subject of some discussion, we may call attention to the views expressed upon this point by Hon Richard H Dana in a very effective and well received speech, delivered by him in Providence in the course of the late canvass —

Do you object to the proclamation of emancipation? Do you know what it is? Republicans, cabinet ministers, differ as to its meaning and probable effect That an army may free the slaves of the enemy, is a settled rule of war The rebels must expect this Their conduct has made it necessary and right to do so But if any man fears or hopes that the proclamation did as matter of law, by its own force, alter the legal status of one slave in America, on the first of January last, in my private judgment, he builds his fears or hopes on the sand It is a military act, and not a decree of a Legislator It has no legal effect, by its own force, on the status of the slave. What is done by the strong arm is done, what the arm of force does not do, is not done — That is the nature of a military act Its moral effect, as a threat or promise to the master or slave, the probabilities of its advancing an actual emancipation, I do not speak of I speak of its legal effect on the legal status of a slave who is not freed in fact by the act of superior force I say this, because I do not wish to see mistakes entertained, to see a good cause put on a false principle If you sustain the war, you must expect to see the war work out emancipation. I trust you do not object to it on that ground. Oh no! but is there not danger of a servile insurrection? If insurrection is inevitable, it must come, but it will not come by any act of ours The President deprecates it Every General deprecates it, No sign of it has appeared yet, nor do I believe there will be any serious rising of the negroes. They will escape, and come to us, and we will free them and organize and employ them in labor, and do our best for their good—a difficult task, but one that is cast upon us, and that we cannot put off

An Opinion Indeed —An English officer who left Charleston on the 28th of March is reported by telegraph to express the opinion "That if our Monitors successfully resist the fire of the batteries and forts, and reach a spot where they can fire into Charleston, that place will be reduced to ashes " This officer can be no other than the celebrated Captain Bunsby

Advertising has given many a good business, has saved many a failing business, has secured many a lost business, has revived many a dull business has enlarged many a small business, has preserved many a large business, has created many a new business, has secured success in every business Advertise

Our Neutral Friends —It appears that the chief damage done to our ironclads was caused by the projectiles with which "our neutral friends," the English, have provided the rebels We appreciate fully and shall not forget these little attentions —Providence Journal

3000 [illegible] GROUND INDIAN MEAL;
[illegible] by HENRY LAW

The Richmond Whig on Gen McClellan

While General McClellan was at the head of the Potomac Army the rebel journals always spoke of him with a great pretense of admiration. They used to assure the world that General McClellan was the only man they were afraid of—the only Yankee General whom they thought to be possessed of any genius

These opinions were often cited by Gen McClellan's admirers Now however, when this officer is displaced from the army, and when there is no likelihood that he will ever return to command, the rebel journalists come out with their real opinions of his merits as a military officer!

[From the Richmond Whig of April 21st

THE LATE GEORGE B McCLELLAN

Young Napoleon is dead—dead beyond resurrection In the flesh he may still walk the earth, but in spirit, in power, in the hope of glory, he is defunct It is a noteworthy fact that the halloos and hullaballoos over this person have ceased in Yankeeland For two or three months after his dismissal he was the pet object of Democratic sympathy and conservative sympathy; but now even Beast Butler has grander ovations than he. His name is seldom heard among them He is no more.

A review of his career from the time he claimed Rosecrans' laurels in the little affair at Rich Mountain down to the time of the battle of Antietam would be instructive to the nation of liars who accepted him at his own lying valuation, and discarded him because his falsehoods gigantic as they were, produced no visible impression upon the rebelion. It might also profit the Confederacy to trace in the career of this braggart the overruling power which has never failed to darken the counsels of the wicked and to cause all things to work together for good in behalf of the just cause Nothing is easier to prove than that the elevation of McClellan to the position of commander in chief of the Yankee army was all that was needed after the election of Lincoln to insure our independence! The recital of a few facts will show how greatly we are indebted to him

In October, 1861, he had 180,000 men, and the most overwhelming array of field artillery that had ever been seen upon this continent. Before him was an army of 40,000 Confederates, occupying Munson's and Mason's Hills, and defiantly daring him to come out of his fortifications The roads were good and weather splendid; he had but to advance in force to gain an easy victory—so, at least, thought his master, Lincoln. But he knew his men were cowards, and he was of his reputation. He did not want to fight, he sought merely to push us from one position to another by dint of enormous numbers—hence the flank movement by way of Leesburg, which ended so horribly and benumbed him with fright for three months.

Driven by an imperative order to advance again in spite of the winter mud, he entered the intrenched camp at Manassas only to find it a mass of surrounding ruins

He shipped round to the Peninsula, taking 112,000 men with him Magruder opposed him with but 7,500 men, kept him in check and forced him to the use of the spade and pick, his favorite weapons. He made siege, and in due time occupied our deserted lines. The battle of Williamsburg followed. His advance was whipped by Johnson's rear guard, but owing partly to the ignorance of the country and to the bad handling of some of our troops he was enabled to gain enough advantage on one wing to put some conceit into his men He acknowledged, however, at one time it looked as if the Bull Run rout would be enacted again.

After this battle an event occurred which has been forgotten, but deserves to be recalled A Confederate surgeon, left in charge of the wounded, told McClellan that his gunboats might possibly reach Richmond, but that his infantry never would The little Napoleon smiled as if in pity of the surgeon's ignorance The surgeon told him further, that the Abolitionists were making a tool of him, and that they would throw him aside, proclaim a general emancipation of negroes, and put an Abolitionist in his place McClellan replied that he was in no fear of the Abolitionists as long as he had command of that army. "But," he added, "if they do throw me aside and set the negroes free, I shall go to Europe, and cease to have anything to do with this war."

How literally the surgeon's predictions have been fulfilled! McClellan has been kicked out of office, the insurrection proclamation has been issued; Hooker, a pure blooded Abolitionist, has command of the Army of the Potomac, and it has not been two weeks since McClellan, in a public speech, urged the people to sustain Lincoln How debased the creature is? Why is he not in Europe, and why does he longer live here, except in hopes of a new appointment under the Abolition despotism?

Space will not permit us to follow Young Napoleon through the narrative of his career. The Yankees might have taken Richmond after the battle of the Seven Pines, when our forces were in confusion After the battle of Hanover Court House he might have done the same thing After the battle of Antietam the same

In the report of the battle he convicts himself of falsehood in the most glaring manner He excuses himself for not renewing the battle on the morning of the 18th by saying his losses were so great, and there was so much disorganization in some of the commands, that he did not think it proper, especially as he was sure of the arrival that day of 15,000 fresh men He "happens to recollect" the return of his enemy Hooker's corps, viz. 35,000 men for duty, and four days after the same corps showed 13,500 Yet after this admission of loss and disorganization, he closes by claiming a great victory, with a capture of 13 guns, 39 colors, 15,000 small arms, and 6,000 prisoners

His bombastic dispatches from Western Virginia secured his elevation His reputation was founded on lies In lies he towered and under lies he is lost—crushed How fortunate for us that he was chosen chief of the Yankee army! With the immense numbers at his command, an officer of truth, enterprise and daring would have pushed us sorely but he was in awe of his dishonest reputation His lies made him a coward, and from the first day to the last of his military career he did not dare, on a single occasion, to expose himself to fire A mendacious, dastardly boaster, he perished so unmanfully that the ridiculousness of his last moments destroys every vestige of obligation conferred by his vain-glorious pretension

Gen Schenck —In a speech delivered not long since in Baltimore, Gen Schenck is reported to have said

I will tell you, (said the General) and I am somewhat emphatic, that, in my opinion, compared with one of those sneaking shuffling traitors at home, shedding crocodile tears over the violation of the Constitution, compared with him, the meanest and vilest,—and if the ladies were not here I would say the lousiest [great laughter] soldier in Jeff Davis's army is a patriot and a gentleman! -

The editor of the Baltimore Clipper says The remarks of Gen Schenck are indorsed by the great mass of the truly loyal men of the nation in regard to them.

A Christian had better go to any place of amusement than to go home whining because he can't go.

LEGAL.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all net profits (less $600) derived from any source whatever A person is allowed to deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes, hired help, Rents Drayage &c necessary to carry on his business, but no farmer [illegible] on house or any [illegible], [illegible] such expense from his income

The Income Tax is to be [illegible] on the income of the year commencing January 1st 1862, so that on the evening of December 31st 1862 everybody should make up a record of their income gains or profits for that year And also any sources of income, such as Dividends and Railroad Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, Savings Banks, interest, &c, (they having already paid the income tax) are [illegible] It therefore becomes necessary to have a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor

All corporations must deduct the three per cent before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year, and pay the tax on the amount less $600

A man may outside of his business spend all and even more than his profits in the business, nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $600 And so with a salary, all over $600 must be taxed though personal or family expenses consume it all

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May, 1863, and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863 And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid, and for ten days after demand by the Collector, five per cent will be added to the tax and unpaid

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters!

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr C M Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them

J. NEWTON BROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861

PARTICULAR NOTICE

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market and will cost much less You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relatives or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA August 23, 1862.

Messrs Jones & Evans —Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances, and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital Mr Frederick Steinbrun of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now, thank God for it, getting better Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months, for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours   ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr Malone, restored to life
